excerpt from john hopkins university studies in historical and political science vol 8 history politics and education the facts of american history were very early confounded with the definitions and doctrines of a dogmatic political philosophy before our constitution was three score years old it had been associated with a mass of theoretical and fanciful folk lore whose authenticity was more vehemently asserted than were the facts themselves a body of tradition grew up about the origins of our nationality and it became the mould in which all conclusions from documentary sources must be cast this apocryphal element obscured the genuine portions of our history and became the criterion by which events were judged instead of remaining an hypothesis which the examination of evidence should justify or destroy about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works mary turnbull's contributions to historical writing on singapore extended from her 1962 thesis published in 1972 as the straits settlements 1826-1867 indian presidency to crown colony to her magisterial history of singapore first published in 1977 and re-issued in 2009 in an updated edition as a history of singapore 1819-2005 her approach to history involved detailed work with documents and published materials with a particular focus on political and economic history one contributor to the present volume described the book as an exercise in endowing a modern nation state with a coherent past that should explain the present as styles in history evolved younger scholars including some of her former students and colleagues began exploring new approaches to historical research that drew on non-english language source material and asked fresh questions of the sources mary enjoyed controversy and expected debate and had a deep interest in these accounts which were in many ways a natural progression from her own publications even when they raised questions about her interpretations and conclusions studying singapore's past had its origins in a conference organised to discuss her work the volume includes ten contributions some from long established scholars of singapore's history others from a new generation of researchers their work offers an evaluation of established understandings of singapore's history and gives an indication of new directions that researchers are exploring in publishing the book the editor not only pays tribute to a distinguished historian but also seeks to make a contribution to the historiography of singapore and to ongoing debates about singapore's past

there are several characteristics of nathan rotenstreich's work which are striking his thoughtful writings are both subtle and deep they are steeped in his critical appreciation of other thinkers of this and preceding times an appreciation which is formed by his learned understanding of the history of philosophy and with all this he has an original and independent intelligence he has from time to time brought his skills to bear upon historical scholarship most notably perhaps in his book between past and present 1958 2nd edition 1973 his interpretive essays in the philosophy of history philosophy history and politics 1976 and his scholarly work concerned with the influence of historical development upon modern jewish thought tradition and reality 1972 related to these and equally works of that philosophical humanity which professor rotenstreich embodies are his humanism in the contemporary era 1963 spirit and man an essay on being and value 1963 and reflection and action 1983 rotenstreich combines both the naturalistic and the phenomenological attitudes in an interesting and illuminating way through the full spectrum of issues in the philosophy of history in this century surely he sets boundaries to any doubtful extrapolation not only would he bring the understanding of history back from those who claim it as only a positive science but equally would he prevent the transformation of that understanding into merely speculative inquiry history has always been more than just the past it involves a relationship between past and present perceived on the one hand as a temporal chain of events and on the other symbolically as an interpretation that gives meaning to these events through varying cultural orientations charging it with norms and values hopes and fears and it is memory that links the present to the past and therefore has to be seen as the most fundamental procedure of the human mind that constitutes history memory and historical thinking are the door of the human mind to experience at the same time it transforms the past into a meaningful and sense bearing part of the present and beyond it is these complex interrelationships that are the focus of the contributors to this volume among them such distinguished scholars as paul ricoeur johan galtung eberhard lämmert and james e young full of profound insights into
